Solidarity is more than making donations. Personal contact and relationships between people from the north and the south can be as important as money.

Are you interested in learning first hand about the projects HSA supports in Central America? Would you like to see for yourself the reality for the majority of the population in Central America? Are you ready for a life changing experience?

HSAs Committee for Equality and Social Action and CoDevelopment Canada is working on a Southern Partner Tour to take place in late February or March 2006. Depending on interest, the committee and CoDevelopment Canada will join another tour, or organize one of our own.

The tour will likely be to Honduras and El Salvador. The approximate cost of the tour will be $2,800 for 10 days to two weeks. The cost will include air fare, on ground transportation, accommodation and meals.

If you are interested contact Pam Bush at 604-439-0994 or by e-mail at pam@hsabc.org.

In order to have time to make arrangements we must know if you are interested by November 1, 2005. The tour is open to members, employees and their partners.
