You are invited to Health Care Drinks

October 12, 2011

Health Care Drinks is a fun and fabulous networking opportunity for those who want to connect with others to help protect and improve our amazing Canadian health care system - as a professional health worker, an advocate or as a user!

Whatever your reason for coming - to meet doctors and nurses and lab techs and pharmacists and others in the sector, or to get inspired in your activism to protect Medicare - we invite you to come.

This is not a regular shmoozing event, as few people will already know each other. Your job, should you choose to accept it, will be to chat up as many new people as possible - and then to watch the creative, inspired and empowered results!

Guest speakers will ensure we all learn a little something - but only a little! The reason we are gathering is to help you find the people you are interested in and connect over a beer in a great neighbourhood pub.
