Holidays Act Q&A: employees working July 2, 2012 get stat pay

April 11, 2012

Q: Im scheduled to work July 1, and not on July 2. However, my employer says that I will not be getting paid at the "statutory holiday" rate for work on July 1. Is this right?

A: This year, July 1 falls on a Sunday. According to the federal Holidays Act, this means the legal statutory holiday is July 2. For 2012, members working July 2 will receive stat pay ... not those working July 1.
