2013 Canadian Labour Congress Winter School

October 24, 2012

One of Canada's best labour schools, held at Harrison Hot Springs, in January and February 2013

The CLC Winter School offers a wide variety of week-long, quality labour oriented courses. To support HSAs ability to represent HSA members effectively and to help build a stronger union, members and/or stewards can apply to take courses chosen to meet these objectives.

HSA offers a number of scholarships which cover full reimbursement for wages, travel, registration, accommodation (twin), meals and dependant care. In addition, HSA provides one Ann Hallman Scholarship.

HSA members can apply for an HSA Scholarship or the Ann Hallman Scholarship by completing the on-line registration on the HSA website at www.hsabc.org. In order to view Event Registration you must first log onto the HSA website with your HSA member ID number, select Member Services then Event Registration from the dropdown menu. Registration deadline is midnight November 26, 2012. Please contact Karin Herbert for further information.

Please note that HSA CLC Winter School scholarships are popular, and more applications are usually received than can be accommodated.

This year, the union is also offering a scholarship for one female to participate in the Women in Leadership course.

Child care will be available at the CLC Winterschool. If you are approved for any of the above scholarships, you will be contacted by HSA with further details on the child care.

Application Deadline: midnight, November 26, 2012
